Delegates to the Conventions Go Uninstructed-Colonel Daily Gives His Views on an Interesting Topic-Details of the Meeting.

Tio republican county convention was heid yesterday in the superior court room. The time announced for its opening was 11 o'clock, when it was expected that the temporary organization would be effected so that the afternoon session might be devoted to the main business of the convention. But owing to serious wrecks on both the Rock Island and Milwaukee railways the delegations from a part of the county had not arrived. Chairman Hazelton of the county central committee called convention to order and stated the difficulty, when it was decided to postpone all action until 2 p. m. in order to give the absent delegations a chance to arrive. When the convention was again called to order it was found that the Minden, Neoia and Underwood delegations had managed to be present by driving across the country. The Walnut and Avoca delegations, and a part of the Carson, had found that they would be unable to get in before 5 p, m. and had decided to go back to their homes.

G. L. Wilkinson of Neola and E. J. Abbot following committees were appointed:

of Council Bluffs were appointed temporary chairman and temporary secretary. The Credentials—A. H. Keller, L. S. Fields R. T. Ward, B. W. Hight, J. B. Matlock, R Campbell. Permanent Organization—George Bolton, C. G. Weeks, Jacob Hansen, W. C. Van F. G. Weeks, Jacob Hansen, W. C. Pelt, Theodore Guittar, E. L. Shugart.

Resolutions — George Putnam, Frank Shine, F. Marti, C. G. Saunders, C. M. Hari, J. M. Galviu, Delegates—Alex Osler, S. M. Johnson, W E. Remington, William Arnd, G. M. Gould,

Mr. Shugart's Idea.

E. L. Shugart made a motion that all who might be chosen delegates be given to under-stand at the start that they would be expected to vote in accordance with the in structions that would be given them with reference to Pottawattamie's candidates for railway commissioner and for congress. E. E. Hart stated that Hon. Spencer railway commissioner, preferred that no instructions should be given the delegates so far as he was concerned, as it might appear that he was afraid of his chances for endersement by the state at large. A resolution endorsing his course, however, would be acceptable. Shugart's motion was finally declared out of order, as the convention was not yet permanently organized. M. E. Meyers called the attention of the committee to the fact that some of the cour try districts were not represented, and asked that particular attention be paid to them in making the selection of the delegates. His remarks were greeted with applause.

The report of the committee on credentials and the report of the committee on permanent organization, recommending that the temporary organization be made permanent were made and adopted. The committee on resolutions reported the following resolutions, which were adopted with applause: We, the republicans of Pottawattami

We, the republicans of Pottawattamic county, lowa, in convention assembled, resolve, First. That we endorse the principles announced in the national and state platforms of the republican party adopted in the recent conventions at Minneapolis and Des Moines. Second, That we cordially ratify and endorse the nominations of Harrison and Reid and pledge to them our enthusiastic support. Third, That we again express our esteem for and confidence in the public and private record of Hon. Spencer Smith and cordially commend him to the republican state convention to be held in Des Moines on the 29th.

Walle the convention was waiting for the While the convention was waiting for the report of the committee on delegates, C. M. Harl was called for and responded in an eloquent speech. John Lindt was called for, but stated that he was saving his voice for the time to come when he should ascend the stump, but that when that time came he would do all the talking anyone could ask. Dr. O. W. Gordon, H. A. Smith, C. G. Saunders and A. S. Hazelton made speeches in which the brilliancy and purity of the adfollowing were selected as members of the central committee for the coming year, one committeeman from each township Layton township T. Opposed to Prohibition. John Lindt offered the following resolu-

lion:
Be it resolved by the republicans of Pottawattanile county assembled in county convention, June 23, 1822. That we instruct our delegates to the state convention to use all honorable means to get a resolution into the platform favoring high license or local option. A rising vote was taken on the resolution and it was adopted by a small majority.

A. S. Hazelton was nominated for reelection to the chairmanship of the county central committee. Mr. Hazelton begged off on account of lack of time and was finally released after a unanimous vote in favor of his re election had been taken. Ernest E. Hart was elected to fill the vacancy, with Mr. Hazelton as assistant. By this time the committee on delegates had finished its work. The following is a list of the delegates chosen for the various list of the delegates chosen for the various conventions:

Delegates Go Uninstructed. At this juncture Captain B. W. Hight pre-sented a resolution instructing the delegates to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Colonel D. B. Daily for congress at the coming congressional conven-tion. He followed the resolution by a few remarks, in which he pleaded for Colonel Daily on the ground of his brilliant record Colonel John Lindt to his feet in opposition to the resolution and with a motion to lay it on the table. He thought it was wrong to instruct the delegates to vote for any candidate when there was another candidate from the county for the same negligible. date when there was another candidate from the county for the same neminatios. He alluded feelingly to the plethoric pocket-book of the other candidate, and said that it had always been open to the demands of the party. J. M. Galvin spoke in behalf of Dally. Lindt took the floor as soon as Galvin had finished and after some pressure had been applied to him he stated that George F. Wright was the other candidate he had mentioned. While the fight between Daily's friends and the men who were opposed to giving any instructions was at its height, Colonel Daily came forward and by permission of the convention made a speech in his own behalf. He referred to his record as a soldler and demanded that the conven tion make some disposition of his case. did not want the resolution tabled, wanted the convention either to adopt it or else adopt one favoring another candidate.

"If you say you don't want me I shall ad mire you for your candor," said he, "but it you refuse to face the question I shall hate you for cowards and poltroons." A rising vote was taken, which resulted in the carrying of the motion to lay on the table, and the delegates go uninstructed.

Just after a motion to adjourn had been made J. M. Galvin arose and requested the convention to allow him a few minutes in which to present a resolution. It was in-tended, as Galvin stated, to free the republican party in Pottawattamie county from the charge that had been made against it by demo-cratic papers and by democrats on the street that it was manipulated in the interest of a certain secret political organization. It was quite lengthy and contained one or two ref-erences that were objectionable to some of the delegates. A long discussion ensued, in which more or less warmth was displayed by different speakers on both sides. Oil was at last poured on the troubled waters by C. M Hari, who drew up a resolution which did away with the objectionable features. It was substituted for the other and adopted with-

Caught in the Cylinder. J. W. Curvell, a colored man who is serv ing a thirty day sentence in the county jail for stealing clothing from a Lower Main street store, is suffering from the effects of an accident which may yet cost him his life. When the jailer turned the steel cylinder in which the prisoners are confined during the night to let them out for the day, Curvell stepped out, but remembering that he had left part of his clotnes inside the cylinder, he stepped partway back to get them, thinking he would have time to do so and get out again before the cylinder swung past the doorway to his bunk. But he calculated wroug, for while his head and shoulders were inside, the cylinder, which weighs many tons, caught him and crushed him against the outside bars, crushing him severely across the body, the mark of the contact extending from his shoulder to the opposite hip. The cylinder at once bounded back and Curvell fell to the floor. The physician who was called stated that Curvell had some chances to recover, although the force of the crushing he received would have undoubtedly killed him instantly if his head instead of his body had been between the cylinder and the bars. No blame can be attached to the jailer or anyone else except-ing Curvell himself.

A Chautauqua Outing. The beautiful grounds on which the Chautauqua assembly will be held next month furnish such attractions that many families are planning for a two weeks' outing there. Some have cot-tages, others are to pitch their tents, and all are planning for a grand time socially and intellectually. With a popular entertainment each morning, each afternoon and each evening, making three a day, together with various classes for study, a kindergarten for the little folks, plenty of music, etc., the program is crowded with good things. The transportation arrangements are so much more conveniently arranged than in any previous year that it will be very ensy to get to and from the grounds. It is the best outing for a little money than one can plan for. The vest pocket programs give all details and can be had on application to Managers Treynor & McGee, at the Chautauqua office, No. 10 Pearl street, Council Bluffs.

Commencement Exercises of the Graduating Class of the High School. The First Presbyterian church was crowded last evening by the members of the '92 graduating class of the High school and their friends to hear the address of Judge Norris of Ponca, whose subject was "Our Debt to Antiquity." Judge Norris is an impressive and interesting talker and delighted hishearers by his masterly effort. He said:

"Any class of young ladies and gentlemen are to be congratulated that they graquate and enter upon the duties of active ine in the year 1802, in the United States, and especially in the state of Nebraska. In no previous age of human history have the rising generation extending before them so brilliant a prospect. Within the memory of living men greater advancement has been made in scientific investigation and mechanical inventions than during the preceding 5,000 years of human history, and if we are true years of human history, and if we are true to ourselves, if our civilization continues, and the work of the past half century continues for another fifty years, the knowledge possessed and the power wielded by the men and women of that time will be a matter of the wildest speculation.

"Nowhere is the energy and enterprise of the American people more signally manifested than in this, the Magic City of the state. A city five years old with 10,000 infested than in this, the Magic City of the state. A city five years old with 10,000 inhabitants, and a city the school population of which forty-eight months ago was less than 300, instructed by four teachers, and whose achoels are now attended by 2,700 scholars, taught by a corps of thirty teachers. This evening I again extend to you my congratulations upon graduating at this prorituous age of the world, in this nation and state, and particularly upon the fact that you comprise the first graduating class of the city of South Omsha."

The speaker alluded to the fact that the knowledge and mechanical powers characteristic of the nineteenth century are in a great measure an inheritance from our fathers. 'The application of electricity,' said fathers. "The application of electricity," said Judge Norris, "presents the grandest trimph of mind over matter, but by the investigation of previous ages the nature of electricity was understood, thus preparing the way for the invention of the telegraph, Mathematics, the basis of mechanics, was inherited from the Arabs and Hindoos. NEBRASKA CENTRAL PLANS.

Iowa Towns That Will Get the New Road -- Railroad Gossip. The sponsors of the Nebraska Central en terprise have laid down in a general way the route on which they wish to construct their Iowa line, but of course it may have to be medified on account of obstacles and conditions not yet apparent. The proposed route runs in an almost straight line northeast from Council Bluffs to Fort Dodge, passing through Avoca, Audubon, Coon Rapids and Gowrie. These towns are already of considerable importance, and the line as projected will cross several of the Iowa railroads. There is considerable speculation in interested circles on the effect of the Rock Island's reduction of the cattle rate from the southwest to Omaha. Freight Agent Crosby of the Burlington says his line is not likely to meet the new $12.50 rate because it cannot afford to stand all the shrinkage and the connecting lines south will probably refuse to bear a part of it. He says the Burlington offered a year ago to make this same rate from Concordia, Kan., having a connection at that point with the Santa Fe, but the cher lines refused to co-operate.

The Missouri Pacific is perhaps the road most affected by the Rock Island's action, but it is maintaining the old rate. It is known, however, that it had a representative in South Omaha yesterday investigating the situation, and that is regarded as an indica-tion that it contemplates meeting the new rate. Other freight men say frankly that the competitors of the Rock Island will be compelled to adopt its rate, and they seem to regard that as a foregone conclusion.

Passenger Agent Kennedy has learned the merits and peauties of American vestibuled cars in a dozen different languages. A train of four Pullmans, a diner and a baggage car was recently sent to Europe for a French road, and an American tourist firm took a party of our globe trotting compatriots about the continent on this train before turning it over to the new owner. A friend has sent Mr. Kennedy numberless papers containing elaborate and wondering descriptions of the American innovation, and these accounts are a curious polygiot collection.

E. W. Dent, who was transferred from the Omaha office of the Rock Island to Kansas City, has returned, and is now interested in the Northwestern distributing agency. Among Military Men.

Major Bacon departed yesterday for the frontier town of Suggs, Wyo., to investigate the recent disturbance. It is understood in military circles that the civil authorities in Wyoming have made a demand for the castody of the troops engaged in the fight at Suggs but the military authorities have re-fused to surrender them until word can be received from Washington. The military authorities fear that under existing circumstances in Wyoming it would not be safe to surrender the soldiers to the civil authorities for prosecution. The matter will probably be adjusted in a few days without difficulty. General Brooke was seen by a Ban re-porter today with regard to the matter but he had nothing for publication. He indicated that the matter would be adjusted soon without trouble.

FOR THE FOURTH.

Committees of Various Organizations Will Meet to Prepare a Program. It is now settled that Omaha will celebrate the Fourth of July. The Board of Trade, the Real Estate Owners association, the Builders and Traders exchange have taken hold of the matter and, acting upon the suggestions thrown out by THE BEE, have commenced to plan a monster celebration. Yesterday the Board of Trade appointed Joseph A. Conner, Adolph Meyer and John G. Willis as a committee to act with committees that might be appointed by other organi zations or by citizens to outline a program and a line of action. A general mass meeting has been called for tohis evening, to be held at the Board of tohis evening, to be held at the Board of Trade rooms, to take final action and for the purpose of appointing the committees and subcommittees to carry out the work.

Ctark-Evans. Hor Spaines, S. D., June 23,- [Special Telegram to Tun Bes. .- This afternoon at 5 o'clock Mr. H. D. Clark was united in marriage to Miss Ella Evans at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Mr. Frame of the Congregational church performed the cere-mony. The contracting parties are well known in the northwest, where they have a large circle of friends. The bride is the daughter of Fred T. Evans, who owns the northern addition to this city, including the Minnegahta Springs, and is well known. The happy couple departed on the evening train for Denyer and Colorado Springs, where they will enjoy their honeymoon and then return to this city to make their home.

Returning the Chairs. The judges and clerks of election who spirited away the chairs which were in the election booths have seen the error of their wicked whys. Since THE BEE published the notice that all of the parties having chairs were to be prosecuted Superintendent Mathiesen of the city hall has been kept busy receiving and receipting for the plunder. Up to this date all of the chairs, with the exception of eighteen, have been returned. Cause of Dixon's Troubles. Lilly Lewis, a colored prostitute, was yesterday morning fined $50 and costs for assaulting Fanny Beil. Of course she could not pay her fine and was taken to the county jail. While she is there in all probability the soldier, Dixon, will be taken out and hanged. This should give her food for reflection, for she is the woman for whom Dixon committed the crime of murder and for the sake of Paid for His Officiousness, Deputy Poundmaster Davis was fined $75 and costs for brutally assaulting as man named Eckstrom at Thirty-first and McGeath streets. Davis went out to get a horse pastured in a vacant lot there and Eckstrom, the owner, resisted. To show his authority Davis used the butt end of a black snake over Eckstrom's head and shoulder until witnesses arrived and interfered. Charles Kohl's Estate. The probate court yesterday appointed W R. Kohi administrator of the estate of Charles and Elizabeth Koul, who were killed on the Omaha and Council Bluffs motor line, June The administrator will at once bring suit for $10,000 in the district court, making the railway company the defendant.

Burglarized a Residence. The residence of L. L. Babb at 2438 Spalding street was visited by a burglar last Monday and about $50 in cash and jewelry was carried away. A neighbor saw the sneat passed out of the yard and down the alley but she supposed Mrs. Babb was at home and paid no attention to the intruder.

Caught a Deserter.

When John F. Nagle arrived in Omaha he thought he had got as far from "the odor of brine from the ocean" as he could get. He wore the uniform of one of Uncle Sam's marines, however, and that got him into trouble. Detectives Hayes and Hudson met him on the street and gathered him in Republican Drum Corps. A number of young republicans of the city are organizing a campaign drum corps. Mr. James 1sh and Justice Bradley are the prime movers, and they expect to complete ar-rangements that will make the Omaha Drum corps a distinctive feature of campaign

WEATHER FORECAST.

OFFICE OF WEATHER BUREAU,]

OMARIA, June 23. (
Pressure has increased in the upper Missouri valley and the "cool wave" is pressing southward. Cool, cloudy weather, with numerous rain areas, prevails over the whole country north of Kansas and Missouri, Heavy rains have again fallen in the upper Mississippi valley and also in northern Illi-nois. A BEATRICE CHANDELIER.

A Special Design Entirely Original with an Omaha Firm. The chandelier for the district court room The chandelier for the district court room in the Gage county court house at Beatrice, now being set up ready for shipment by the gas and electric light fixture firm of Russell, Pratt & Co., is one of the handsomest things seen in this city for many a day. The design is original with the firm and consists of beautifully scrolled work copper bronzed, with 9 enormous stalactics, tastefully covered with grill work, suspended from the with 9 enormous stalactites, tastefully covered with grill work, suspended from the arms above. The effect will be simply grand when the electric lights with 500 candle-power and the half hundred gas jets are turned on. The chandelier measures 13 feet in length and 13 feet in circumference. The construction is entirely new, there being nothing at all like it in the west. The remainder of the rooms in the Gage county court house are like it in the west. The remainder of the rooms in the Gage county court house are being fitted up with equally as good, though not quite so claborate fixtures, making it the best appointed public building in the state as far as light is concerned.

The new Omaha city hall, which is the largest gas and electric light contract given so far to any one firm in the United States, it also being fornished with this firm's five.

is also being furnished with this firm's fix-tures. Many other public and private build-ings are adorned with Russell, Pratt & Co.'s handswork, besides many more in course of construction, which is very good evidence that they are doing their share of the fixture Important Engineering Test. An important engineering test was made sesterday on locomotive No. 870, running the Empire State Express on the New York Central railroad. work was done by Angus Sinclair, editor of Lecomotive Engineering. He sat on a box on the front of the engine cylinder and took steam indicator diagrams all the way between New York and Albany. A speed of seventy-eight miles an hour was recorded, and the engine developed over 1,600 horse power. The work of pulling that fast train was preformed on a coal consumption of two and one-cighth pounds of coal per horse power per hour .- The New York Herald, May 4, 1892.
